

In Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, it is our enduring mission to enhance the lives of children. We extend this mission to providing for the needs of our employees, offering them resources and a work environment that improves the quality of their professional and personal lives. We believe this is an obligation of our organization. We further believe that thoroughly providing for these employee needs is the best way to ensure that every child our employees touch through care, research and education is given the best chance for a healthy life.

To demonstrate our commitment to these beliefs, Children's Healthcare of Atlanta will motivate employees to their contributions and provide employee benefits that make working at Children's a pleasure. We will embrace learning—in both knowledge and skills—to help employees reach their fullest potential. We will foster leadership at all levels, celebrating the unique skills and potential of each individual and challenging each employee to make a difference. We will communicate with employees in a spirit of clarity, openness and honesty. We will support employees' efforts to pursue goals that define their work and life success, and counsel our leaders to facilitate and demonstrate their support. Some of the ways we achieve work-life success we do well, and some of require further progress on our part. But because we believe they are important, we will never stop in our pursuit of them.

As we emulate the children we care for, our thoughtful relationships and teamwork will create a positive environment for everyone. We should laugh together. Sometimes, we may cry together. And we believe that because we view employees equally as persons and professionals, Children's will receive our dream of being the best choice for employment on an ever-changing market.

We believe the future belongs more to those who make a similar commitment. Therefore, we encourage employees to believe that a child's well-being and future define a higher purpose for our work. To stand alongside us, diligently pursue excellence in every activity and seek and accept responsibility. We ask employees to be ever mindful that we look for employees' potential more than a job, more than a career, but a passion about creating the healthier childhood possible for all children.

Children need us... and through our commitment to each other, we will make this promise real.
