

Show You are Strong Enough to Care Enough by Wearing Your T-Shirt Feb. 11

Last fall, we gave you a sneak preview of our new, dynamic employee recruiting campaign, "Strong Enough to Care Enough," at employee forums. We'll be launching the big reveal of an exciting blog featuring Children's employees Wednesday, Feb. 11.

Show your Children's pride—and that you are Strong Enough to Care Enough—by wearing your "Strong Enough" T-shirt Wednesday, Feb. 11. The T-shirts were originally given out at the employee forums but if you don't have one you may be in luck...a limited number of shirts will be distributed at the campuses this week and next (Marcus and Neighborhood Locations already received shirts; quantities are limited).

Watch Careforce Connection Wednesday, Feb. 11, for the big reveal, and see for yourself how we're Strong Enough to Care Enough.

Be sure to send photos of you and your team wearing your shirts to Internal Communications for posting on Careforce Connection.
