Nurses: Attend Upcoming Roundtable Discussions

Chief Nursing Executive, Joyce Ramsey Coleman, is hosting the next series of roundtable discussions in May to coincide with National Nurses Week. During these sessions, Joyce will provide an update on several nursing initiatives and discuss the valuable role of nurses at Children's. All nurses, not just those who provide inpatient care, should attend and can drop in at any time between 7 and 9:30 a.m. (note the time change for the session at Scottish Rite, May 11).

Schedule

Please note that the session scheduled for May 2 at The Park was cancelled and will be rescheduled.

- Monday, May 6—Egleston, Classroom 6
- Thursday, May 9—Scottish Rite, Boardroom
- Saturday, May 11—Egleston, Classroom 5
- Saturday, May 11— Scottish Rite, Boardroom (11 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.)

During these open discussions, Joyce encourages nurses to bring their questions, concerns and ideas. For these first meetings, she would like nurses to consider the following question: What inspires you about being a nurse?

Stay tuned for updates on Careforce Connection announcing dates and topics for the next series of chats.
