

4

Fun

A blank canvas can be the springboard from which an artist's imagination takes flight. Sally Austin, Office of the General Counsel, is developing her imagination and her talent in a monthly art class with local artist Pat Appling. After telling her co-workers how much she enjoys the class, a few of them joined. If you're interested in enhancing your own artistic talents, Children's offers painting classes. E-mail Latonya Blount at latonya.blount@choa.org to learn more.

Children's offers many different options for employees looking to expand their creative horizons, including the Children's Employee Choir. The choir practices in Classroom 4 at the Office Park from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. every Monday. E-mail Cindy Burrell at cindy.burrell@choa.org for details.

